

INTRODUCTION

Your Editor as a result of various committments has been slow in assembling this issue. I am planning to start preparing issue No. 3 by July 15 and so keep your contributions coming. It is a pleasure to report considerable interest has been shown in the Newsletter with requests for issues coming from all parts of the globe.

Send your contributions immediately on:

- 1) New Techniques
- 2) Research notes, including abstracts of papers sent for publication
- 3) Short items not of sufficient stature for journal publication
- 4) Personal and Laboratory news
- 5) Requests for material
- 6) Announcements, meetings, etc.
- 7) Letters to the Editor
- 8) References to recent publications
- 9) Changes of address. An up-to-date distribution list will be issue with Newsletter No. 3.
