

R. M. GREENWOOD

Applied Biochemistry Division, D.S.I.R., Private Bag, Palmerston North,
New Zealand

Rhizobium and Lotus

Dr. Greenwood reports "My particular interest is on Rhizobium associated with different Lotus species. As you may know, Lotus corniculatus and L. tenuis nodulate normally with quite different Rhizobium strains from those nodulating L. pedunculatus, L. subbiflorus and L. angustissimus, these being the main species occurring as naturalized or sown plants in New Zealand."